Re: USADA v. Floyd Landis, Sample #995474

Dear Travis:

On August 7, 2006, you made the following request to the UCI:

"[G]iven that the laboratory results include an elevated testosterone/epitestosterone ratio, please forward to us as soon as possible all prior and subsequent test results, including the steroid profiles, from this athlete."

Please advise whether or not you have received any documents responsive to this request from either the UCI or LNDD, whether in the form of laboratory documentation, summaries, spreadsheets, or any other format that provides any of this requested information. If I do not receive your response by the end of the week, I will assume that you have received no such documents from either UCI or LNDD, and will proceed accordingly in formulating upcoming additional document requests.

In addition, we note that the laboratory documentation is primarily in French. Please advise whether or not you have been provided an English translation of these documents by LNDD or by anyone else. Again, if I do not receive your response by the end of the week, I will assume that you have received no such translation, and will proceed accordingly in formulating upcoming additional document requests.
